Coleman Juniors Advance in Provincial Finals

Coleman's Junior Team Shows How Efficient Itself as Well as Advance to Finals.
Hats off to the Coleman juniors! On Monday evening they advanced to the southern Alberta final of the provincial junior hockey playoffs and will meet Bashaw this week end.
The team was organized at the beginning of the season, when a number of young men decided to have a junior team. They elected their own executive, having Bill Ambrose, Jr., as their secretary. Finishing themselves as best they could, they have kept financially clear up to the present and have travelled out of town to meet their hockey engagements.
They defeated Blairmore juniors in the first round in a two-game total-goals series, dropping the first game 7-5 and shutting out their opponents in the second 3-0. In the second round, they defeated Claresholm juniors, coached by a former Coleman goalie, Barry. They won the first game at Claresholm 5-2 and on Monday evening at the arena they won a spirited contest over the practice dwellers 3-2, to win the total-goals series 8-4. Now they oppose Bashaw in the southern Alberta final, with the hope of getting into the Alberta final.

Here is where the fun begins. At Edmonton, New York Rangers sponsor a junior team known as the E.A.C's. The members of this team have been imported from all over western Canada, in order to build into a Memorial Cup winner—a Dominion championship. Since the New York Rangers are behind it, it is a certainty that the members of the team are not playing for their health. They are conceded to win out in the north. Should Coleman make it to the Alberta final playoff, it should be a great match—a highly-gearered professional-sponsored team, against a bunch of kids who have chipped in with their big nickles to get a team together. In order that they have the fun of having a team among themselves.

It is expected that the southern final will be a home-and-away affair. If it is, get behind the local youngsters and give them the big boost they deserve. On Monday night approximately 200 turned out to watch them. One thousand more supporters wouldn't do them any harm.

"CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING, like continuous work, is most effective. If there is any enterprise in the world that is quitter should leave alone, it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk, it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day, year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. To discontinue your advertisement is the same as taking down your sign. If you want to do business, you must let the public know it. I would as soon think of doing business without clerks as without advertising."

Canadians Miss Play-off Berth by Few Points on Saturday

Canadians' hopes of entering the provincial play-offs were shattered Saturday evening when Olds Elks defeated Drumheller 5-2. Olds made it impossible for Coleman to make them from the play-offs. Elks defeated Drumheller 5-2 before taking the final score at Olds. From then on there was nothing at stake, and Leafs quickly rallied in the regular Donnybrook.

At Lethbridge, entirely unaware of the final score at Olds until midway through the third period, Canadians and Leafs were engaging in a regular Donnybrook. The teams were battling on even terms at 4-4 in the third period, when from the public address system there blared forth the final score at Olds. From then on there was nothing at stake, and Leafs quickly rallied in the regular Donnybrook. The large number of local fans, although a little disappointed over Coleman missing the time of their lives when Henderson and McIndoe clashed, which was quickly joined by members of both teams, as well as some hockey fans and a strong arm of the law. It was some time before order was restored and the game resumed. Due to the lethbridge officials selling every seat in the arena, a contingent of Coleman people numbering about 100 rushed the doors and mingled with the crowd in the rush seats. Lethbridge people who had bought tickets and came late were refused admittance and given their money back.

One Coleman party at the game at Lethbridge, on Saturday evening was "kipped" out of $150, when he bought what he thought was and was two tickets to the game. Since it was fairly dark and being a trusting soul he gladly handed out the money to a young man who was selling "tickets." Upon entering the hotel and examining the pasteboards he found them to be tickets for the Olds-Leafs game, which had been played many days previously. Needless to say, there was plenty plain and fancy cuss!

Writing Headlines

There is a famous story among newspapermen about a cub reporter who was asked to sit in at the desk to pinch-hit for the headline writer to write a streamer headline on a meeting of the local newspaper at a hangout at a certain penitentiary in the States. The young man's first effort: "Jones is Hanged"; his second: "Pays Supreme Penalty." Much exasperation by the city editor. Then, "Executed at Daybreak" was offered. "No, no, no!" said the city editor. "We must have a headline that will sell hundreds of papers on the streets." In desperation, the young man made one more try and came forth with "Jerked to Jesus." And "Jerked to Jesus" it appeared on the street edition of that newspaper. The lad was complimented. From an address by John H. Casey, professor of journalism, Oklahoma University.

A woman with false teeth had written Miss Dorothy Dix a letter. What the lady in distress wanted to know was: should she tell her fiancé about those loose teeth, thereby, she said, risking her fiancé's change of heart and mind, or should she go ahead and let him make the discovery after marriage—at the risk of a disgusted bride? Dorothy's advice, critical and to the point, as usual, was: "Marry the man and keep your mouth shut."

Canadians Will Play at Kimberley on Saturday

Canadians will play an exhibition game against Kimberley Dynamiters at Kimberley on Saturday evening. It will be a return trip for that given the local team by the Dynamiters here at the beginning of the present season.

The game will give fans throughout the southern Alberta an insight of the relative strength of Dynamiters and against teams in the Alberta loop. Kimberley players are expected to rout out of the Kootenays in search of the Allan Cup and their performance against Canadians will give a fairly good idea of how far they may travel.

With Our Neighbors at Blairmore

On Friday last, "ye ed" spent the afternoon in Blairmore. Following a visit to the "baby bank" of Premier Abernethy, where Mr. Dunkley was putting the finishing touches to a new interior, and hobnobbing with our third, happened to meet in the nice quiet little Canadian Legion club, where Tommy Allen keeps a strict eye on business and sees that everything is run "according to Hoyle." At least, that's the impression gained from very frequent visits.

It was not long before Joe cast a sidelong glance, then made a remark about us apparently not agreeing with his "prattle" on Crow and senior hockey. To give him the air of seriousness, he had, he said, looked up the dictionary to find exactly Noah Webster's definition of the word. Joe even wrote it in his weekly contribution to the Lethbridge Herald, and here it is:

"Considerable interest was taken in our hit, published in our last column, regarding the possibility of Coleman not being in the senior league next season. In fact, editorial in The Coleman Journal of last week desired to know if the information as contained in my 'prattle' (we looked that up in the dictionary—it means silly, idle, empty talk; un-m, hasn't got a very good opinion of our weekly 'prattle') was based on inside information or just a flight of my imagination."

He goes on to tell why he stated a few weeks back that Lucey and Coleman would probably have to play in a league of their own:

"Just a Hunch. Well, it's neither facts nor imagination. Just a hunch. ... During the season, I have talked to managers, coaches and hockey players. Like the wise old owl, I listened more than I talked. ... These are some of the things that I heard: 'Excessive travelling expense'—uncertain ice conditions—'teaching artificial ice rinks would make a swell league' ... These and other reasons I took as strains showing which way the wind was blowing. Coleman might be frozen out of the league. ... This, ah, er—yes, 'Prattle' might have made true prediction, and then again we may be talking through our hat. ... Those profits and loss statements at the season's end, with maybe a little red ink on them, will be the deciding factor."

As Joe has a good sense of humor, and his column of "prattle" (ardon the word) has maintained keen interest among hockey fans, to do him justice and to vindicate his honor as "one of the boys who writes for the papers," we decided to put him right with the Crows' Nest Press and the world.

MISCELLANEOUS

Miss Gladys Lees spent the week end with friends in Lethbridge.

Martin Pavlus, of East Coleman, will leave shortly for Poland, where his family at present reside. He expects to remain there permanently.

William Ferby, energetic proprietor of Ferby's Grocery, was a business visitor at Lethbridge on Wednesday afternoon.

"Bill" McGrath returned to his estate west of Coleman this week, after living during the winter at a local hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Marden, of Calgary, were here over the week end to attend the funeral of Mr. John Denholm.

THE JOURNAL IS WELL READ

Mrs. John Hirst, writing from Nanaimo, B.C., states: "I'm glad $200 renewal subscription for another year. We eagerly look for your paper every week, and READ IT FROM COVER TO COVER; then, after other Colemans have read it, we mail it to my sister in Merco. Thus, you will see, it is well read."

These remarks, Mrs. Hirst's kind remarks, for a bouquet is always more pleasant to receive than a brickbat or a growl.

Many Attend Funeral of John Denholm

Well-Known Coleman Resident Died Early Friday Morning Following Brief Illness.

A few minutes before 8 a.m. on Friday, Feb. 24, John Denholm, well known resident of Coleman since 1912, died in the miners' hospital, aged 69 years. He was born at Lethbridge, Alberta, and lived at Crossair, where he was well known by several who are now residents of Coleman. He was married to Miss Mary Denholm, his wife, he is survived by two sons, Jim, in Coleman, and Dave, living in St. Albert, a sister in Midland, Scotland, Mrs. Hugh McKee; a nephew in Winlaw, B.C., George McKee, and grandson, John, Coleman. The cause of death was pneumonia, which developed very rapidly, having only been admitted to hospital three days prior to his death. He worked at McCreary mine until 1928, when he received a leg injury which left him crippled and incapacitated for further work.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the residence on Third Street, Rev. H. J. Bevan, of St. Paul's United Church, officiating. Burial, in service, and burial was in Coleman cemetery.

Coleman Miners' Association followed their regular meeting, being postponed from the afternoon till the evening to enable them to attend the funeral. The pallbearers, of the Knights of Pythias lodge, of which deceased was a member, were Wilbur C. E. C. Clarke, B. C. Brown, Walter Nelson, Tom Lloyd and James Glenenden.

John Denholm's familiar figure will be missed, for despite his disability, the result of a mine accident years ago, he would always greet his friends and acquaintances with a smile. Less than a week prior to his death he was present at the funeral of another old resident, Coleman, William Ferby. The first meeting of the writer with John was on a fishing trip to the North Fork eleven years ago, and no matter where you met him, he always would greet you with his friendly Scottish mannerisms. Mr. Denholm was a popular variety, and recollections of a kindly soul remain among his friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all who so kindly assisted, and for the kind words, letters of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings on the death of our beloved husband and father; also to the hospital board, doctors, nurses, Coleman Miners' Association, for their help and consideration, and those who loaned cars, and no matter where you met him, he always would greet you with his friendly Scottish mannerisms. Mr. Denholm was a popular variety, and recollections of a kindly soul remain among his friends.

Letters of sympathy: Coleman—Mr. and Mrs. G. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. E. Henrich, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. John Lochrie, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Pardiell, Mr. and Mrs. Lees and Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Petrunick and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. Burchell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson and family, Colemanian Society, Knights of Pythias, The Marden family, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. B. Mahlin, Hillcrest; Sandy and Jane Henderson and family, Lethbridge.

Mr. Lorne A. Campbell, president of McGillivray and International coal companies, was here on Tuesday. The annual general meetings of the two companies will be held here on March 28, of which all shareholders, living in various parts of the world, are being advised.

COLEMAN PEE-WEES 5, THOMPSON'S MAROONS 4

In a well-played pee-wee hockey game at the local arena on Tuesday, Feb. 23, a representative team from Coleman pee-wee league defeated Thompson's Maroons by a score of 5-4. Play throughout was close and the calibre of hockey displayed was impressive.

The Slugs—Nincan—Huds line accounted for all of Coleman's goals, and were a main factor in earning a victory for the locals.

Goals were scored as follows:—First period: 1, Coleman, Slugg; 2, Blairmore, B. Galica; 3, Blairmore, Selcher; 4, Coleman, Nincan. Second period: 5, Blairmore, B. Galica. Third period: 6, Coleman, Nincan; 7, Coleman, Slugg; 8, Blairmore, Cerny; 9, Coleman, Nincan (Slugg, Huds).

Amateur Contest Aroused Wide-spread Interest

Many Turned Away From Palace Theatre on Tuesday Evening; Winners Eliminated From Pass Contests.

Talent among the young people of the Pass towns was demonstrated in the amateur singing contest, Tuesday night, which is being held in conjunction with CFAC radio station, Calgary. Winners selected for the broadcast concert on Friday in the Palace are: Mary Campo, Peggy McDonald, Ian Manney, Annie McLellan, H. Buckan, Frank Edl, Charles Edgar, T. Kroppink and Amelia Ryland.

Other contestants were Joe and John Selzer, Hazel Kline, J. W. McCasce, Cecco, John Stevulak, J. R. McIsaac and J. McIsaac, Paul Diamond, Alkaichinsky, Wally Bardock, Frank Gejdos, and Pavlus.

All received generous applause. Mary Campo's singing of "My Mother," and Annie McLellan's singing of "Mart Kenny's" orchestra theme song were outstanding. Most of the selections were of a popular variety.

Friday night's concert will be broadcast from the Palace through CFAC at 10 p.m.

Budapest.—Hungary's new government smashed the nation's largest party of Nazi sympathizers and at the same time, with sweeping contradiction, allied Hungary formally with Nazi Germany in an anti-Communist pact.

Premier Paul Telyky, who took office Feb. 16, banned the Hungarian party as a danger to public safety. In swift raids carrying out his order police arrested more than 500 persons, ousted the party from its headquarters throughout the country and seized tons of documents and propaganda material.

While the raids were in progress, Foreign Minister Stephen Osaky urged the anti-Communist agreement, which pledged Hungary to aid Italy and Germany in fighting the "red" throughout the world.

Gipsy Wedding In Toronto

Groom Is Next In Line To Become Romy King

Prince Steven, Semio and Princess Kika Eutich, offspring of the royal house of Romy and future king and queen of the gipsies, got married in Toronto—everybody at the wedding wished they would live 1,000 years.

"We had a big table with pigs, chickens, wine and everything enough for 150," the gipsy bride said. "My father and mother took me and gave me to the father and mother of my husband—that made me theirs."

"Then they gave me to the son and said: 'We hope you have a good life, that you make a good wife, and live 1,000 years!'"

"I told them I hoped they made lots of money and that they lived to be 1,000 years—and everyone was happy," Mrs. Semio said. "Then the gipsies gave me $20 gold pieces, according to custom, and we all began to eat and sing."

"My husband's father is an old man," she said, "and my husband is the next to become king of all the gipsies."

Not What It Seems

Former Residence Of King George Larger Than It Appears

The comparatively narrow frontage which 15 Piccadilly—former residence of the King and Queen, and now adorned with a "to let" board—shows to the world, is no real indication of its size, says the Glasgow Herald. For, like so many London houses, it goes a long way back, and burrows deeply underground. As a matter of fact, there are 12 kitchens in the establishment, and when royalty were in residence some of the 30 servants needed to run it scarcely ever saw the light of day, except at "off" duty times.

Has Different Method

The manner in which a cobra strikes is very different from the method of the long-fanged snakes, such as the rattler. The latter opens his mouth wide, and stabs the victim, while the former grasps the victim, and chews it momentarily.

Luxurious Air-Raid Shelter

For Use In Peace Time But Would Be Handy In War

The most luxurious air-raid shelter in Great Britain has been built on an estate at Bosham, near Chichester, England, owned by S. Gestetner, well-known yachtsman.

The shelter is underneath a flower-decked rock garden. It will be used in peace-time as well as in war. His two children will be able to play as usual, oblivious of the danger of enemy aircraft overhead or of the horrors of poison gas.

The shelter is 50 feet long and is built of reinforced concrete with bombproof glass bricks and marble facings. It is in the form of a passage linking his two houses, with easy access to each. It is fitted with ultra-modern steel furniture and a high-powered radio set has been installed.

The shelter also contains a cocktail bar, tennis table and an 800-gallon aquarium containing tropical fish.

Have Come To Canada To Adjunct Yearly Festivals

Two British musicians, Dr. Arthur Benjamin of London and George Dadds of Newcastle, sailed for Canada where they will act as adjudicators in music festivals throughout the country. A third adjudicator, Frederick Stratton of Chesterfield, will be delayed pending completion of his honeymoon. He married Kathleen Vera Greaves, 38, a former pupil, several weeks ago. The adjudicators were appointed after consultation between officials of Canadian musical organizations and the British Federation of Musical Composition Festivals.

Mr. Stratton will conduct examinations also for the associated boards of the royal schools of music which sends an examiner annually to Canada.

Mah Koo, Chinatown's lone Chinese, who operates a laundry in the mining camp, has gone north. Recently the Chinaman acquired a dog team which he uses to pick up and deliver laundry. In mukluks and parka, this middle-aged Chinese presents a strange contrast to pictures of his countrymen back home in bare feet and straw hats.

Mah Koo ventured north from an Alberta town two years ago and seems quite satisfied to live alone on the Arctic rim. A busy man, his gasoline lamp generally shines from an unshaded window until midnight and men coming off night-shift at 4 a.m. claim the laundryman's light usually appears before they find their robes.

In spite of mukluks, parka and dog-team, Mah Koo still retains his shuffling Chinese gait. He admits, however, that like the miners for whom he washes, he enjoys a nip of Scotch.

Experimenting In Socialization

State medical care and hospitalization on province-wide basis has not yet been put into operation in any of the Canadian prairie provinces, though one or two of these provinces have preparatory legislation on the statute books ready for use on proclamation of the lieutenant-governor in council when the time may be auspicious which is probably another way of saying when the provincial government can see its way clear to financing such a project.

In other provinces the demand for province-wide state medicine is growing in volume and vociferousness and the time may not be far distant when one or another of these provinces will adopt a measure to meet the accelerating tempo of the clamor for it.

The persistent call for provincial state medical aid and hospitalization is one of the outcroppings of the depression decade from which—it is to be hoped—the west is about to emerge. Its successful operation, however, is dependent, among other things upon proper financing and, of course, it is not surprising to find that governments are loath to embark on a scheme involving a large sum of money at the outset, at a time when people are unable to pay existing levies for other services and when, as a result, governments are heavily in debt which they are unable to meet.

It is largely because of the lack of private income that people are pressing such urgent requests for provision for state medicine and hospitalization and it is exactly for the same reason that governments are chary about embarking in new ventures of this nature at a time when they are most needed.

When and if the country is again prosperous and governments can more readily secure money to finance projects of this kind, the need for state medicine and hospitalization will somewhat diminish and it will be interesting to see whether or not, on that account, the demand for it will die down. In the mean time, the governments have not yielded to the pressure that is now being brought to bear upon them.

Interesting Experiments

In the meantime experimentation in group medical aid and hospitalization is being carried on in the west, both on voluntary and compulsory bases, on smaller scale. The success, or otherwise, of this experimentation will be watched with close interest, not only by participants in and beneficiaries of such measures but by the entire populace of the west.

Within the past twelve months several groups in the larger centres have organized mutual medical benefit societies in the hope of securing medical and hospital services for their members at reduced rates as a result of co-operative bargaining power and are financing their plans by flat rate monthly levies upon the membership, thus organizing costs of sickness under a budgeting plan. Most of these organizations, purely voluntary in character, have not been in operation long enough to be able to determine whether or not they will be successful, and in fact, most of them are yet in the embryo stage.

On the other hand, this spring will see the first state medical and hospitalization project in Western Canada, perhaps the first in the Dominion, put into effect on a municipal compulsory basis.

The electors of the Rural Municipality of McKillop in Saskatchewan voted in November to embark on a municipal-wide health insurance plan by a 96 per cent. majority poll. The rural municipality embraces one town and two villages and these urban units are combining with the municipality to set up the first health insurance district in the province to cover a complete range of medical and hospital services, including surgical and X-ray work and medicines for all the residents of the district. The plan is being financed by an annual levy of $5 on every resident of the rural municipality and of the town and the two villages, payable quarterly and in advance. Agreements have been made with two physicians resident in the town to take care of all the medical requirements of a population of 2,350 and negotiations for hospitalization are under way with two city hospitals outside the boundaries of the municipality.

Will Be Closely Watched

This municipal scheme is compulsory on the residents of the municipality and will be administered by a district board of health representing the several urban and rural units.

Provincial legislation is required to authorize the imposition of the proposed levy and this, it is said, has been promised and will be sufficiently wide to enable other municipalities within the province to launch similar measures on a vote of the electors.

Since this is compulsory, once it has been adopted by a vote of the electors and is, therefore, closely akin to a full-fledged provincial health insurance or state medical and hospitalization scheme, though on a smaller scale, its operations will be watched with intense interest throughout the entire west. If it should prove a success, doubtless many other municipalities will adopt a similar measure at the first opportunity, and it is quite possible that in this manner a municipal project may grow into a province-wide scheme.

Many factors will determine the success, or otherwise of this first municipal venture. They include the ability and willingness of the residents to pay the levy and when required, the confidence of the people in the doctors which have been selected and the co-operation of the hospitals with which agreements are being made and the nature of the agreements with both doctors and hospitals.

Five Special Trains Carried Italians From France To Homeland

Rome. — Three thousand Italians returned to their homeland from France in the greatest mass movement yet undertaken in Italy's program of repatriation among her sons abroad.

They crossed the frontier in five special trains.

Squads of Fascist blackshirts lined up at railway stations saluted them and officials gave them a warm welcome. Many more will be brought back to Italy in coming weeks. Two shiploads were scheduled to arrive from the south of France.

As the returning Italians swelled the total manpower on which Premier Mussolini can draw in event of war, several recently adopted decrees designed to give Italy greater power in wartime went into effect upon their current publication in the official gazette.

Among them were measures providing for militarization of the entire economic life of the nation at the moment of a general or partial mobilization, for dividing the country into military zones for administration of economic life in wartime and for distribution of gas masks to all government employees and industrial workers.

Fascist newspapers telling of the repatriation program gave prominence to despatches from Malta reporting a student demonstration against the new constitution of the British-held island in the Mediterranean, south of Sicily and the Italian mainland.

Italian claims on Malta have often been put forward in the press in the past, but they have not been mentioned in the recent agitation for Tunisia, Corsica and other French territory.

The homecoming men, women and children, including some infants born abroad and seeing Italy for the first time were led to Fascist headquarters by a brass band.

Most of them will be removed to towns or country districts from which they came. The repatriation commission established Nov. 17 is endeavoring also to attract Italians in non-Italian parts of North Africa to Libya, where they will be under the Italian flag once more.

Fire On New Battleship

Birkenhead, Eng. — Fire broke out in the giant battleship, Prince of Wales, under construction at a sister ship of the 35,000-ton King George V, which was launched at Newcastle. The blaze was quickly discovered and brought under control. The damage was described as negligible. The ship is to be launched May 3.

Two Miners Killed

Copper Cliff, Ont. — Two men were killed in the Froed mine here when "powdered ore" collapsed on them in an ore chute as they began repair work. Three others were badly injured by the fall but managed to drag themselves free.

Welfare Council Has Plan For Control Of Unemployed Problem

Ottawa. — A detailed plan for control of the problem of destitute unemployed without established residence is advanced by the Canadian Welfare Council in the report of a national committee on non-residence and migrancy.

The plan includes proposals for uniform residence legislation and interprovincial agreements, Dominion acceptance of responsibility for a "small residual group" of migrant men for whom there will be no established residence in any province, farm hostels for the unemployed older men, central registry bureaux for control of "drifters" and routing of men to rehabilitative training and voluntary outdoor work centres for young men.

In connection with the last proposal, the council emphasizes: "Civilian relief and re-establishment is one problem, concerning primarily the employment and welfare authorities, and preparation for defence is quite a different one, resting on the military authorities. The two should not be confused."

The council recommends that these work centres should be under civil administration and offer specific

Refugees Are Safe

United States Gunboat Takes Many Foreigners To Shanghai

Shanghai. The United States gunboat Oahu reported 43 foreigners, mostly British but including eight Americans, had been brought safely through Chinese and Japanese battle lines from Kuling to the Yangtze river port of Kiukiang.

The refugees, isolated for months at the mountain-top resort while Chinese-Japanese warfare threatened to engulf them, arrived in Shanghai aboard a Japanese ship.

The gunboat steamed to the rescue when Japanese military authorities warned foreigners to leave Kuling before an attack on Chinese forces entrenched on the mountain-side.

No mention was made of a handful of other foreigners who remained in Kuling. It was understood they were concentrating in well-marked locations, some of which the Japanese were informed.

For Patriotic Citizens

German Headquarters In London To Maintain Nazi Spirit

London. — A Nazi "brown house" similar in many respects to the Nazi party headquarters in all the large cities of Germany, will soon be established in London in a mansion at 18 Belgrave Square.

The house, formerly the Austrian legation, will be taken over by the London section of the organization of Germans abroad. The building, now used by the German embassy as a passport bureau, has been rented from the Duke of Westminster. The lease does not expire for 14 years.

From the "brown house" the local German organization will work actively to maintain a patriotic German spirit among rich citizens in Great Britain.

Ran Aground In Gale

Two British Submarines Had Been Engaged In Manoeuvres

Portsmouth, England. — Two submarines, the Sunfish and Sterlet, ran aground in Sanquary bay, Isle of Wight, during a gale.

One of the submarines was refloated on the rising tide and left for its base under its own power. Other warships stood by to assist in refloating the second craft.

The Sterlet and Sunfish, which were engaged in manoeuvres, were commissioned in 1937 and are reputed to be able to dive to deep water in 30 seconds.

No Unity For Ireland

LONDON. — Terrorist tactics of the outlawed Irish Republican army "have served very definitely to shelve any question of a united Ireland for a long time," John F. Gordon, Northern Ireland labor minister, declared.

Wood Alcohol

New Regulations To Curb Sale And Reduce Deaths From Drinking Poison

Ottawa. — New regulations to curb the sale of improperly labelled wood alcohol were announced by Hon. J. L. Lacey, Minister of Revenue. The regulations were drawn up in an attempt to cut deaths due to drinking the poison.

Under an order-in-council effective April 1 next the terms "wood alcohol" may not be used in labelling wood alcohol. It must be designated as "methyl hydrate" and must bear a red poison label with a skull and crossbones. Labelling of wood alcohol as "Columbian spirits" or with any other designation except "methyl hydrate" is forbidden.

Persons purchasing methyl hydrate from druggists must sign a "poison book" which is to be open to inspection by customs and excise officers and Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Breach of the regulations will be considered an indictable offence.

Recommends Reduction

Six Seats Less For Alberta Legislature Is Urged

Edmonton. — Reduction in members of the Alberta legislature from 63 to 57 was recommended by the special legislative committee on redistribution which submitted its reports to the legislature.

Under the redistribution, Calgary and Edmonton would have five members each instead of the present six members and rural seats would be reduced from 51 to 47. The rural seats would be reduced through alteration of boundaries of existing constituencies.

The report included two proposals — one to leave the members at the present 63 and the other to reduce it by six. The committee recommended the reduced membership be concurred in by the house.

Escort For Lord Craigavon

Every Precaution Taken To Avoid Trouble At Tilbury

London. — Precautions were taken to prevent any incident at Tilbury, when Viscount Craigavon, prime minister of Northern Ireland, arrived from Australia.

The shipping company refused permits to the landing stage or the ship. Entrances were guarded by police and detectives from Scotland Yard's "special branch" went on beatifications.

Lord Craigavon's car was escorted by police patrols of the Essex constabulary as far as Rainham, where metropolitan police took over the escort.

When his ship called at Plymouth, Lord Craigavon declared bombings attributed to the outlawed Irish Republican army organization "will have no effect on the loyalty to the British Empire of Northern Ireland."

Brought Large Income

Toronto. — Gold bars valued at more than $800,000 were sold to refineries by two Toronto old gold dealers in a little more than three years, it was revealed as R. E. Whitehead, Ontario securities commissioner, opened a public inquiry into the income tax returns of four dealers.

NEW MINISTER

Major Sir Reginald Hugh Dorman Smith, who succeeds Mr. W. S. Morrison as British Minister of Agriculture. Sir Reginald, who is 39, is the second youngest cabinet minister.

Chinese Building Tunnel

Thousands Of Coolies Working In Mountains Around Temporary Capital

Shanghai. — Foreigners in Chungking, China's temporary capital, reported a tremendous project to tunnel the mountains surrounding the city as shelters against Japanese air raids. They said thousands of coolies, working with primitive implements, were burrowing into the mountains in an effort to dig out shelters for 300,000 persons.

Chungking, with a population estimated at more than 500,000, is one of the cities of inland China marked out by Japanese for air raid attack. In order to minimize the possible damage by air raiders and to eliminate fire hazards, Chinese officials have ordered about one-fourth of the city razed.

(Since the fall last October of Hankow, Chungking has been the main seat of General Chiang Kai-Shek's government.)

Quarrel Has Been Settled

Iran And France Will Resume Diplomatic Relations Soon

Paris. — The quarrel between France and Iran over the mix-up in the words shah and cat has been settled. Foreign ministry officials said diplomatic relations which were broken Dec. 30 by Iran would be resumed soon.

The shah had called his minister home in protest against the use by the French press of the word "chat," which means cat but is pronounced like shah. He had objected particularly to photographs of a Paris cat show with references to "his majesty the cat."

Need Men And Material

Decease Issued By Goering Indicates Shortage In Reich

Berlin. — A shortage both in man power and raw material was indicated in the Reich in a decree issued by Field Marshal Wilhelm Goering. The decree ordered two 10-hour shifts daily in the building industry instead of three eight-hour shifts and also ordered drastic economy in the use of wood in the building industry.

EGYPT'S QUEEN ATTENDS OPERA

Fixed Wheat Price

Premier Bracken Wants Minimum Price Of 80 Cents Retained

Winnipeg. — Any reduction of the fixed minimum wheat price of 80 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern, basis Fort William, would be detrimental to the national interest, Premier Bracken said in the Manitoba legislature.

The premier, moving adoption of the reply to the Throne speech, criticized the federal government's proposed discontinuance of the present minimum price system and establishment of an average bonus.

"I believe that the feeling is widespread that the two problems, that of assisting the minimum price and the other, the provision of assistance by way of relief or crop insurance in distressed areas, should each be considered and determined by itself," he said.

"Assistance to the wheat industry as such must be given in terms of assistance to the man who produces a crop and has to sell it as under present conditions at prices far below the cost of production."

If reports the new policy would mean a guaranteed price of 50 to 60 cents a bushel were true the western farmer would be unable to meet even his current expenses.

"Since those who work to produce wheat cannot in justice be denied protection against foreclosures, the person who will be the chief sufferer will be the creditor," Mr. Bracken said. His government would take steps to ensure no efficient farmer was driven off his farm by a Fort William price of 60 cents for wheat or comparable prices for other grains.

Receive Royal Visitors

English Workers Give Warm Welcome To King And Queen

Newcastle-On-Tyne, England. — The King and Queen, on the second day of their tour of the northeastern industrial regions, spent three hours in the workers' districts around Gateshead.

The sovereigns, accompanied by Labor Minister Ernest Brown, received an enthusiastic welcome from the working people at every point they stopped.

Shipments Not Restricted

Ottawa. — Canada has placed no restrictions on shipment of raw materials such as copper to Germany, revenue department officials said, commenting on the complaint by a private member in the British commons that 400 tons of copper arrived at German ports from Canada during the September crisis.

Britain's Solidarity With France Is Stressed By Halifax

London. — Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, in the house of lords stated it would be a "profound error" to believe Prime Minister Chamberlain had meant reservations in his recent declaration that Great Britain would give aid to France in case of war.

"That declaration was clear and unmistakable," he said.

The foreign secretary also denied reports current recently that Prime Minister Chamberlain is preparing to serve as mediator of territorial claims Italy is making on France and added Britain could not make any move toward mediation "unless and until both parties desire it."

Lord Halifax' new and unequivocal statement of Britain's solidarity with France was made in response to a question from Lord Addison, Labor, who asked the foreign secretary for a clear explanation of Mr. Chamberlain's words.

(The prime minister, speaking before the House of Commons Feb. 6, said that immediate British co-operation would follow in the event both countries were involved in war.)

Lord Halifax said "misrepresentations in certain quarters" compelled the British government to state in "progressively more emphatic and unambiguous terms what has long been accepted as true by the people of both countries."

"It is not only our geographical situation that draws us closer to France,"

Budapest. — Hungary's new government smashed the nation's largest party of Nazi sympathizers and at the same time, with seeming contradiction, allied Hungary formally with Nazi Germany in an anti-Communist pact.

Premier Paul Telly, who took office Feb. 16, banned the Hungarian party as a danger to public safety. In swift raids carrying out his order, police arrested more than 500 persons, ousted the party from its headquarters throughout the country and seized tons of documents and propaganda material.

While the raids were in progress, Foreign Minister Stephen Oasky signed the anti-Comintern agreement which pledged Hungary to aid Germany, Italy and Japan in fighting Communism throughout the world.

Police said they had evidence the Hungarians aimed at a change in the state by violence.

They announced that 60 "leading personalities" in the Hungarian party had been sent to a concentration camp at Kistarcsa. There, ironically, the anti-Semitic, pro-German Hungarians will be in close contact with Jews confined on charges of smuggling and of violating visa regulations.

Authorities said they found scores of prominent Hungarians listed in membership rolls seized in the raids.

Would Buy Warships

Russia's proposal to Build Battleships In U.S. Yards

Washington. — A Russian proposal to build battleships in United States yards and a Netherlands plan to buy more than 100 military aeroplanes here won approval of some of the most outspoken Senate critics of President Roosevelt's handling of warplane sales to the French government.

The approval was qualified by assertions United States should disclose none of its military secrets, make all sales on a cash basis and conduct negotiations with the prospective purchasers "in the open."

Japs' Bomb Railway Station

Say Attack Within British Hong Kong Was A "Mistake"

Tokyo. — The Japanese foreign office announced the bombing of a railway station within British Hong Kong had been explained as a "mistake" the British ambassador, Sir Robert Craigie.

Nine persons, including a British Indian policeman, were killed when a railway station on the Canton-Kowloon railway was struck. Hong Kong officials were inclined to consider it a "localized incident."

he continued, "but also an identity of interests and completeness and understanding."

He warned, however, against construing Anglo-French solidarity as a threat of any sort against a third party, declaring that the dispute over Italy's colonial claims on France does not "primarily" concern Britain.

Lord Halifax expressed doubt that there were any differences between France and Britain, and said that therefore neither country needed to reaffirm verbally their solidarity.

"It is the case that the position of this country is not infrequently misrepresented abroad. On one hand I have seen it suggested that our arrangements are not only intended for security, but they cover some sinister plan for preventive war."

"I should have thought that everybody, everywhere, must now realize that there is no party and no statesman who could ever for one moment contemplate an aggressive war or who could ever get any support from our people for such a policy."

After stressing the British resources are still enormous and the popular will to resist unchanged, the foreign secretary concluded: "No one who knows the British mind will doubt that, should the necessity ever be forced on us, our people would be found today not less tenacious of their liberty than they have ever been."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

WHATEVER may be your thoughts on the results of last Saturday's hockey games, particularly that of Olds winning 1-0 against Drumheller Miners, which caused many a cynical remark, Coleman Canadians have given the public a mighty good season of sport. They deserve credit for their showing.

TO call the senior league "amateur" is camouflage. The only real amateur teams are Olds and Coleman, for the others have a payroll which does not require the players to do other work. Many a time Coleman players have come home from a day's work in the mine, changed into hockey uniforms and gone out and matched the best players in the league, who have had the advantage of artificial ice and plenty of practice time. If you are prone to criticize Canadians for not getting into the semi-finals, just remember a few of the disadvantages they were up against. The more you consider it, the more you will, or should, come to the conclusion that the boys deserve a good pat on the back, with the hope that next year they will not be so heavily handicapped.

AND a word to those Lethbridge "yowlers" who ought to recognize the good drawing card Canadians have been for their artificial ice palace. Coleman team has brought for more money into the coffers of the rink company, the club and the City of Lethbridge than has been the experience when Lethbridge or any other city club played here. It is but another of the handicaps which a place such as Coleman is under when gate fees are reckoned. There are a lot of good sports in Lethbridge, but the bunch of "palookas" who are forever trying to hand the "raspberry" to a visiting team are devoid of true sporting instinct. Of course, you'll find the type everywhere.

NOW we can watch the progress of the four clubs in the semi-finals with keen interest. Having played here, it gives hockey fans a more intimate knowledge of the players, so that radio entertainment will be "hot stuff" for a few weeks longer. Coleman naturally would like to see the championship won by Lethbridge, its nearest neighbor club, even though the two clubs are like the Irish, loving to mix things when they get together.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN constituency passes out of the picture under the realignment of provincial constituencies. On the basis of population, little criticism can be offered, for the new plan provides that constituencies will have 11,000 to 13,000 voters in each. E. O. Duke, sitting member for Rocky Mountain, is left without a seat. Being of a type amenable to the doctrines of the premier, it would not be surprising if he is given a government job. No wonder he stated in the house that he didn't agree with the necessity of re-distribution. No one would thank a government for scuttling his bailiwick.

LESS than four years ago Premier Aberhart, as super-salesman for the Calgary Albertan, was exhorting the people to purchase shares in the company, and to become readers of the newspaper. Social Credit daily in Canada—in fact the world. Evidently something went badly out of gear in the sales campaign, for on Sunday the self-same "Albertan" was the subject of a mighty blast of condemnatory oratory. Those who try to promote a newspaper as a purely political organ quickly find that it is a sinkhole for money—usually other people's money, as in this latest attempt to foster a propagandist newspaper. People will continue to read what they wish, evidently preferring a free and untrammelled press to a controlled press.

CONCERNING weekly newspapers, the majority are fortunate to secure sufficient income from advertising and subscriptions to keep on an even keel. From our own experience, we know positively that had the same amount of energy and capital been employed in promoting a retail store business, for instance, we would have enjoyed more leisure time and profit than in trying to build up a newspaper creditable to the community and ourselves. We have to smile when we recall that a certain M.L.A. charged us with being in league with the financial interests. We'd surely have a good time—if we were! Those who produce the paper might have fatter pay envelopes each week-end.

WE ARE oft-reminded when writing this column in an honest attempt to interest readers, of the colored parson who, deciding that his period of usefulness to his congregation had frayed out, decided to seek new pastures. He did not prepare any elaborate farewell sermon, but hinting that the following Sunday might be his last, informed his flock that if he marched down the aisle of the church with a piece of misletoe pinned to the tail of his frock coat, that would be his farewell message.

"I see you advertised your saxophone for sale," said the friend.

"Yes," he sighed. "I saw my neighbor in the hardware store yesterday buying a gun."

Burglar: "Please let me go, lady. I've never done anything wrong."

Old Maid: "Well, it's not too late to learn."

COLEMAN'S PIONEER ANGLICAN CLERGYMAN WRITES OF NOVA SCOTIAN CONDITIONS

From time to time I notice some reference in The Journal which suggests a comment from me as one of the old timers. First, I saw something about Burns. I was wondering if the origin of this name has been forgotten. It was made up of parts of the names of two ranchers in that district—Burns and Kenna. I have been hospitably entertained by both of these families and have wondered if the properties have changed hands.

Another thing I observed was a little paragraph relating to the Tuna and stating that this fish sometimes attains a weight of over a thousand pounds. I am living in the centre of the tuna fishing district in Nova Scotia. Quite a number of Americans come for the fishing. The largest reported as caught in this locality was obtained by a young man of this town whom I have known as long as I have lived here—Alfred Kenny. His fish weighed eight hundred and sixty-four pounds. Two women landed fish weighing well over seven hundred.

Your readers may have read of the difficulties under which our professional fishermen have labored of late. They have obtained pitifully small prices for their catch for a number of years and have suffered much privation. To bring in a hundred pounds of fish and get a dollar and a quarter or a dollar and a half for them makes it difficult to keep a family, as may be imagined. The fishing coast of Nova Scotia is rocky and the soil poor, as a rule. Few of the fishermen raise much in the way of vegetables on their properties. As in most cases of work, there are many who with their wives, are exceptionally progressive and methodical. My wife had occasion to visit at the home of a fisherman of this town who was noted as a fine fisherman, a "high-liner," as they are called. His wife is a very capable woman. They have a duck, hens and a large number of ducks, and seem to make a very comfortable living. My opinion is that the majority have not had the opportunity that most of our people have.

Nazarene Church Concert Friday Night

Program of Illustrated Gospel Songs Will Be Given by Young People.

A program of fifteen items to be given at the Church of the Nazarene tomorrow evening (Friday) will include songs and recitations by Violet and Pearl Knowles, Patsy Gamble, Audrey Grant, Esther Coccione, Angie Ferrara, Joyce Young, Lios Knowles, Edith Gamble, Margaret Gentile, Keith Young, Billy Gamble, Wayne Mitchell, Ferns Coccione and other children.

"When the devil double-crossed me" is the title of a recitation to be given by Mr. Ralph Perry. A chorus by the children, entitled "Let Him In," is a composition by Mr. Albert Knowles, as is also the illustrated song, "Harbour Bells," the poem being written by Mr.

enjoyed. Till a comparatively short time ago they were very isolated. It can be remembered when a fair proportion in some districts were illiterate. But their work is hard and dangerous. We have had what might be called an unique season this winter—a succession of violent storms. Since the first of December, lobstering has been the chief branch of work. The lobsters are caught in traps. These are made of slats of wood and barrel-shaped, with one flat side on which they rest. Bait is put in these traps. At one end is an opening, large at outside, but funnel-shaped, thus being just big enough for the lobster to get through the small end into the trap. Then he cannot find his way out. The traps are placed at intervals in the sea, with a buoy, to which the line attached to the trap is fixed. The storms are very destructive. In one big gale this season, actual investigation shows that 21,500 traps were lost in this county alone. The value of these is placed at $38,000. Greater than this is the loss of time and the expected catch of lobsters, as new traps can hardly be made for many weeks.

Your miners will be interested to hear that the fishermen have started organizing a union. They will work to get better prices and conditions. Quite a number of boats have been destroyed by the storms—small ones costing about $25, up to power boats running into three or four hundred dollars. Government aid has been asked for the thousands in distress. Unfortunately, politics would appear to be creeping into the situation. Newspapers opposed to the government are accused by the supporters of the powers that be of exaggerating the distress. It must be acknowledged that some of the more ignorant fishermen have been keen to get direct relief without working, so conditions are somewhat complicated. But there is no doubt that many families are in want. I think I have put the matter quite fairly.

Yours, etc., R. A. ROBINSON.

Shelburne, N.S., Feb. 3, 1939.

Knowles, and the singing will be taken part in by Audrey Grant, Esther Coccione and Pearl Knowles.

Miss Moonshian, the pastor, states this will be an unusually colorful program, and something absolutely novel in portraying gospel songs. Miss Myrtle McEwen will demonstrate her art in chalk drawing, the subject being "In the Garden," with Mr. Perry as the soloist.

An invitation is extended to all who would like to attend. The pastor and assistant, Miss McEwen, will gladly welcome you.

Railroad vs. Trucks Transportat'n

Wholesalers State They Follow Merchants' Instructions in Shipping Goods to Pass Towns—Railroad Business Vital to Local Retailers.

Merchants Free to Designate How Goods Shall Be Shipped; Trucks
Not Favored by Supply Houses.

Concerning the shipping of goods
by truck instead of by rail into Coleman, The Journal was told by some of the store-keepers that they did not always have the say as to how their goods should be shipped by wholesale sellers or supply houses. The president of the Board of Trade took this up with a prominent wholesale firm shipping goods to local retailers, pointing out that as this town received its livelihood from coal mining, it was to everyone's interest to use the railroads for freight shipments.

Here is the answer, which is interesting and refutes the statement that some have taken refuge behind when asked why they use trucks instead of the railroad:

Feb. 27, 1939.
This will acknowledge yours of Feb.
14 re goods shipped to Coleman. We are very much impressed with the idea of the Board of Trade, and we think it a fine gesture on your part, and the part of the merchants to have goods shipped by rail. Realizing the necessity of the coal industry and the C.P.R. working together, it is not the fault of the wholesalers that the goods are not shipped by rail.

We act explicitly on the instructions of the merchants, and they usually instruct us to have their goods shipped with the transport company they favor. Goods are shipped F.O.B.
Lethbridge, and we have absolutely no choice in the route they are to take. If we are not instructed as to the transportation company, we always ship by rail.

If there is a movement on foot in the Pass by the merchants, or by the Boards of Trade, and should we be instructed by the same merchants to ship by rail, we can assure you that we will be only too happy to co-operate 100 per cent.

In all fairness to the railroad, it seems to us that merchants in the Pass district must realize that their bread and butter is derived chiefly from the C.P.R., and morally they should support this institution.

We trust we have answered your questions fully, and rest assured that we shall be only too pleased to do what the merchants in the Pass desire.

(Ed. Note: Further comment on this would be superfluous, except to state that the views expressed in this letter should be seriously taken to heart by all who are in business in the Pass towns.)

FOOD THAT CARRIED DEATH

Hospital records are stories of life and death. Here is an actual record taken from one of Canada's largest hospitals.

In June, Willie Blank, residing in a town about 60 miles distant from the city in which the hospital is located, developed a headache and fever, quickly becoming ill. A consultant was called. He diagnosed the case as meningitis, which in lay language is inflammation of the membrane around the brain. The child was rushed to the hospital, where it was confirmed that he had bovine tuberculosis meningitis; but despite all efforts known to scientific medicine to save the life of this curly-headed, three-year-old boy, he died.

Where did he get the bovine tubercular germ? From milk most likely.
So the doctors began their investigation and with little difficulty they traced the milk supply of the child's family to one herd of cows and discovered one of the cows to be infected with tuberculosis of the exact type which killed Willie Blank.

Six months previous to the infection and death of this child, the citizens of the town in which he lived defeated a By-Law which, if passed, would have made it compulsory for all milk sold within the town to be pasteurized. Pasteurization kills germs in milk and had the By-Law passed instead of being defeated, it is reasonable to think that Willie Blank would be alive today.

Safe milk for all children and all adults should be a goal for all Canada.

Curling Arena Is Closed for Season

Funds Will Have to be Raised to Re-roof Before Next Season Opens.

Curlers put away their brooms and rocks during the week, and wrote
"finis" to another curling season.
Many enjoyable hours were spent during the season, which was featured by many spells of mild weather.
Should the club operate next year, a plan will have to be evolved whereby several hundred dollars will be raised during the year in order that a new roof can be put over the ice sheets. A heavy wind storm last month ripped the tar paper off the roof, leaving the ice to the mercy of thawing winds and sun.
The Hogan rink won the club's main competition, the McGillivray cup, while the Antel rink captured the Merchants' trophy.

Weekly Letter From Edmonton

Edmonton, Mar. 1.—Alberta's budget for the fiscal year 1939-40 has drawn major attention of the legislature, and of the province this week. Presented Monday by Provincial Treasurer Solon E. Low, it tells taxpayers how much more they are going to have to pay to their government during the year.

The reply to the speech from the throne, which by practice is of an outstanding annual test of a government's strength in the legislature, was adopted last Thursday, with only about half the members of the house present to vote. The count on it was thirty in favor, and five against.

Then came the report of the legislature's redistribution committee, recommending that the legislature be reduced from 63 to 57 members through the elimination of eleven constituencies, and the creation of seven new ones, with Edmonton and Calgary to have five members each instead of the present six. The committee's report was adopted without a recorded vote, but it is known that the proposed elimination of ridings, which would mean that some present members would have no chance to run in the next election, has caused ill-feeling in the Social Credit caucus.

The present ridings, which would be eliminated under the terms of the report, and the sitting members for them, are these: Ribstone, A. L. Blue; Innisfail, A. E. MacLellan; Bow Valley, W. E. Cain; Empress, David Lush; Acadia, N. B. James; Coronation, G. L. MacLachlan; Rocky Mountain, E. O. Duke; Nanton-Glensholm, H. O. Haslam; Sturgeon, J. M. Popil; Victoria, Samuel Calvert; Whitford, William Tomyon.

Every one of these members is a Social Credit-er. Five of them were known as insurgents at the time of the 1937 caucus rebellion against Premier William Abernethy. On the other hand, the ridings of several members of the insurgent group remain untouched, while the seats of some members, who up to this time have been believed to have the favor of the government, are wiped out.

Thirty-two Masonic Lodges have been dissolved in Poland, amongst them being nineteen German and eleven Jewish ones. From now on, all Masonic activity has been made illegal in Poland.

A meeting of the executive and finance committees of the Cowley News-Pass Musical Festival will be held on Monday evening at 9 o'clock at Mrs. Farmer's house in Blairmore.

The miners' wash house at International mine is being splendidly improved by the affixing of glistening white tiling on the walls. With its showers of hot and cold water, and plenty of locker accommodation, it is probably the most up-to-date among the mining centres of the province.

HIGH SCORING TRIO

Final scoring statistics of the Alberta hockey league this week reveal the Redisky-Sprout-Sanderson line the most potent scoring line of the Canadians. Redisky had 37 points and was ninth in the league scoring race. Sprout was right behind with 32 and Sanderson had 29 points. Their performance is all the more creditable when one realizes that they had no "Santa Claus," with the official scorer giving out assists with reckless abandon as in some other arenas.

THE BLAIRMORE TREASURY BRANCH

The Blairmore treasury branch is nearing completion and should be ready for opening in another week or two. The branch is located in the Brunetto block, two doors east of The Enterprise, and the interior changing is in the hands of W. J. F. Dunkley, of the Sartorius Lumber Company. A large vault of solid cement has been built in, about midway down the east side of the room. The general appointments provide manager's office, teller's cage, ledger-keeper's quarters, etc., and every convenience is being provided for the public. Some of the office equipment was formerly used in the Royal Bank branch at Fernie, while the balance has arrived from Edmonton.

No announcement has yet been made as to the date of the official opening of the branch, nor of the personnel of the staff.

By way of gesture, anyhow, Mr. Dunkley, who is at present in charge, proved to us that one dollar had already been deposited there. That dollar will likely be added to the celebration fee for opening day.—Blairmore Enterprise.
